JAPANESE ATTACK ON HANKOW WILL BE ALONG RAILWAY AND THE LAKE DISTRICT

Not Much Importance Attached To Drive In Yangtse Valley

Hankow, August 14.
THE JAPANESE DRIVE ON HANKOW will be undertaken chiefly along the railway and the lake district while assisted by planes and warships is the opinion of General Yeh Chien-ying, Chief of Staff of the Chinese Red Army, who believes that Japanese experiences in Shansi have convinced them that military campaign in the mountains and along highways cannot be effective against well organized Chinese mobile units but the Shanghai-Nanking, Tientsin-Pukow, Peiping-Hankow and the Peiping-Suiyuan railway battles and also the fighting in the Taihu Lake districts indicated Japanese superiority of communication facilities in such areas.

Well-informed sources do not place much importance on the present drive in the Yangtse Valley. The present Japanese attacks are believed to be merely Japanese attempts to firstly, test the Chinese strength at the various sectors, and secondly, to confuse the Chinese Command as to the real intention of the Japanese.

As soon as the Japanese find a weak opening in the Chinese line the Japanese will direct that main drive in the sector but the big Japanese drive will most probably take place in October when the Yangtse river level is lower and when the Japanese advance along both banks of the river will not be endangered by flood waters.—(Reuter).

ADVANCED CHECKED

Hankow, August 14.
The Japanese advance along the south bank of the Yangtse has been checked east of Juchang, according to a Chinese military communiqué. The Japanese, after landing reinforcements, occupied Maanshan, and Tientsin-shan, but could not advance further in the face of strong Chinese defences east of Kueicheng.

A large-size Japanese warship and four small-size vessels on Friday attempted to steam up-river from Kankou but were forced to turn back eastward when heavily shelled by Chinese batteries ashore. The situation at Juehcheng is now quiet. Quiet also prevailed yesterday along the Kluikang-Railway, states another Chinese communiqué.

HEAVY JAPANESE LOSSES

Hankow, Aug. 15.
Japanese attempts to advance from Kluikang along the railway leading to Nanchang were frustrated at a point south of Lienfachi, which has been in Japanese hands for the past two weeks. Further drive southward was held up by the troops commanded by General Li Han-yun, the Cantonese commander.

Chinese troops counter-attacked the enemy in three routes at Nanchang and Tientshan south of Kluikang. Over 300 Japanese were killed or wounded, and over twelve prisoners were captured.—(International).

Guerillas Harassing Japanese

Chengchow, August 14.
Twenty thousand Chinese guerillas massed on the Hopei-Jehol border are harassing the Japanese with great effect.

Fighting between the guerillas and Japanese is taking place over a wide area in east Hopei, comprising the cities of Miyun, Pingku, Chihshien, Tsungshua and Hsing-lung.

Assisted by thousands of peasants, the guerillas are also actively harassing the Japanese around Chinwangtao and Shanhaikwan.

Heavy casualties are said to have been sustained from the surprise attacks of the guerillas.—(Central News)

Night-Time Parachute Drop Record

London, August 14.
A world record for a night-time parachute drop is claimed by a Welsh clerk, Gwynne Johns.

With a powerful electric lamp strapped to his arm and a sealed barograph attached to the wrist, Johns stepped off from the wings of an aeroplane 18,000 feet over the Salisbury Plain in the early hours of this morning.

Hurling to the earth in 85 seconds before pulling the ripcord, Johns released the parachute when 4,000 feet up. Despite his lamp and four aerodromes specially illuminated watchers lost sight of the daring adventurer who after hours of search was found unhurt two miles from Netheravon aerodrome.—(Reuter).

Daring Murder At Changsha

Changsha, August 14.
Mr. Lo Chieh-fu, member of the Central Supervisory Committee of the Kuomintang and principal of the Kwang Yi Middle School in Changsha, was assassinated by three unidentified gunmen yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Lo was on his way from his residence to the Kwang Yi Middle School in a sedan chair. Emerging from a side path in a secluded part of the city, the three gunmen fired at him with pistols. He was hit by three bullets and instantly killed. One of the sedan chair bearers who attempted to rescue him was shot in the arm.

All the gunmen made good their escape. The family of the deceased has telegraphically reported the murder to the National Government and the Central Supervisory Committee of the Kuomintang, and the local authorities are combing the city for the murderers.—(Central News)

JAPANESE ARMY OFFICER STOPPED IN SETTLEMENT

Shanghai, August 14.
The Japanese announced at a press conference that a Japanese Army major was stopped by a Volunteer troop and surrounded by armoured cars in Nanking Road in the heart of the Settlement at 3 o'clock and made to dismount, and later removed to a police station. The spokesman declared that the officer was in civilian clothes and unarmed but had identification papers which were ignored. He added that "investigations are at present being made with the possible view of a protest to the Shanghai Municipal Council."

Questioned regarding the incident the Commandant of the Volunteers told Reuter's correspondent that car SDF 293 was stopped by a Shanghai Volunteer Corps armoured car today. Owing to a misunderstanding it was thought that the car had rushed the barrier at Szechuen road bridge. Actually it had not done so.

As soon as the commander of the patrol reported to the Louza police station and found the mistake made, the car in question was promptly released.

The police throughout the Settlement kept close watch on the movements of all cars marked with the privileged SDF numbers today following the receipt of information that Japanese agitators are using cars with faked SDF numbers.

About a dozen cars marked with SDF containing Japanese, were stopped during the day and the passengers removed for questioning were all later released.—(Reuter).

CONDOR BACK IN GERMANY

Berlin, August 14.
The German Focke-Wulf 'plane Condor which took off on Saturday from Floyd Bennett field, New York, at 2.03 p.m. landed at Tempelhof airport here today at exactly 10 o'clock thus making the return journey in 19 hours 57 minutes which is 5 hours 2 minutes less than the time required for the outward trip.

Despite the rainy weather countless thousands of eager spectators had flocked to Tempelhof and gave the courageous airmen a wildly enthusiastic reception, the police cordon being broken through by the cheering multitude.—(Transocean).

TWO BIG BATTLES NOW IN PROGRESS IN SPAIN

Bitter Engagement Is Being Waged In Hills South-east Of Gandesa

Saragossa, August 14.
Two big battles are in progress in the fighting which flared up in many parts of Spain in the past week.

On the Estremadura front the Nationalists are pressing forward after the capture of Cabedra del Búy, centre of a huge area producing olive oil, cattle and cereals, and are now battling on the borders of Ciudadreal, one of the last of the eight provinces in Spain in which they have not yet set foot.

South of the Ebro River the operations, after three weeks of bitter warfare, resemble a continuous pitched battle with the Nationalists exercising steady pressure against waves of Republican counter-attacks.

The toughest engagement on the front is waging in the hills to the south-east of Gandesa which, with sandbagged streets and shell-pitted houses defied the Republicans' most desperate attempts to capture it.—(Reuter).

TRIENNIAL ROAD CENSUS IN BRITAIN

London, August 13.
The triennial road census taken by the Ministry of Transport, in collaboration with the local high authorities, begins on Monday and continues to the end of the week.

Some 12,000 enumerators, working in relays, will keep a continuous record of vehicles and pedestrians passing the census points which will be placed on an average of every 4½ miles along 27,000 miles of class one roads.

The census in 1935 showed that in the preceding three years the number of vehicles, other than pedal cycles, counted at comparable points increased by over 34 per cent; figures for pedal cycles showed an increase of 95 per cent.

The coming census will show to what extent the rate of increase has been maintained and will assist the highway authorities in making adequate provision for the various classes of traffic.—(British Wireless).

EXPLOSION IN HOTEL

Hankow, August 14.
An explosion like that of a bomb was heard yesterday from the New Asia Hotel where the bogus Shanghai government offices are housed, according to a Shanghai message. However, the Japanese authorities declared that the sound came from the smashing of windowpanes.—(Central News)

New Cunard Liner

WILL BE BIGGER THAN QUEEN MARY

London, Aug. 13.
The companion ship to the Queen Mary which will be named Queen Elizabeth on her launching by Her Majesty the Queen on the afternoon of September 27 from John Brown's Clydebank yard, will be 10 feet longer and will have a gross tonnage of probably 85,000 compared with the Queen Mary's 81,235.

The new Cunard White Star liner will have 14 decks instead of 12 on her giant predecessor and will carry 2,400 passengers—400 more than the Queen Mary. Streamline is incorporated to a greater extent in the design of the new vessel which will have only two funnels.

More graceful lines are also obtained by a greater rake of stem and flush main deck. A feature of the accommodation to be provided in the Queen Elizabeth is the high standard of third class quarters. The ship's 12 boilers will be the largest ever constructed and sufficient electrical energy will be generated aboard to meet the needs of a town of nearly 200,000 people.—(British Wireless).

QUEEN MARY'S RECORD

London, Aug. 14.
The Cunard liner Queen Mary established a new day's record of 738 miles up to noon today when she covered a total of 2,890 miles at an average of 31.76 knots.—(Reuter).

JAPANESE CONFERENCE IN TURKEY

Istanbul, August 14.
After an assurance from the Japanese Embassy that the recent conference here of Japanese diplomatic representatives in the Near and Middle East was not of a political or economic nature, the Turkish Government considers the incident as closed.—(Reuter).

FURTHER CLASHES
IN PALESTINE

London, August 13. Further clashes between the Arabian Nationalists and British police occurred in Palestine between Thursday evening and yesterday morning. The first of these clashes occurred in Nablus where five Arabs were shot dead. Two Arabs were killed in the neighbourhood of Jerusalem.

It is also reported that a Jew was shot dead yesterday in one of the busiest streets of Jerusalem. The assailant succeeded in escaping. (Transocean).

Helping War
Refugees To Find Homes

Chungking's Plans

(From Our Chungking Correspondent)

So that war refugees in Ichang, Hupeh, may gain information about Chungking before leaving for Szechuen, the Chungking Committee in charge of war relief will open an office in Ichang. It is hoped that eventually arrangements for residence, employment and like matters may be arranged at this office. Meanwhile the Committee will establish an office in Chungking to assist in the landing and temporary quartering of newcomers who require aid. Efforts are being made for the construction of a refugee camp in Hochwan to house 1000 people.

General Hoh Kuo-kwang, representing the National Affairs Commission, has expressed the hope that Chungking will build a number of "common" buildings to rent out to the needy at low rates. When the war is over these buildings may be remodelled into barracks.

The Chungking authorities are urging as many regular residents as possible to move out into the districts to relieve congestion. The Hotel Union has resolved to request its members not to further increase their tariffs.

WOMEN'S NEW STATUS IN CHINA

The present century has seen a remarkable change in the status of women in China.

All grades of education are now open to girls as well as to boys, and every competitive examination, including that to the civil service, is open to women. One of the first practices against which women waged war was foot-binding.

"Lily feet," as they were known, not only involved a painful physical process, but were a symbol of subservience to parent, husband and son.

The Pope
Warns
Mussolini

The Pope made a violent attack recently on the Italian Government's new anti-Jewish "racial purity" campaign, calling it a "disgraceful imitation of German persecution" and warning Mussolini. "He who strikes at the Pope dies."

The attack was made in a speech to Catholic students at Castel Gandolfo.

The anti-Jewish campaign, his Holiness declared, was against the whole spirit of Roman Catholicism, which stood for universality and tolerance, not racialism, nationalism, or separatism.

"We have to ask ourselves why Italy should have to copy Germany with such disgraceful imitativeness," he said.

The warning to Mussolini was uttered in the course of a defence of the Catholic Action Organisation which was disbanded by the Italian Government.

ITALIAN ECONOMIC POLICY

Rome, August 13.

Within the scope of the economic self-sufficiency policy, competent authorities have been authorised to forbid the use of copper, nickel, chromium, cobalt and their alloys, and, if necessary, to prohibit the import of the objects made of copper, nickel, chromium, cobalt and their alloys. TEN-YEAR PEACE PLAN:
CZECHS MAKE OFFER

Dr. Milan Hodza, Premier of Czechoslovakia, allowed it to be known recently that he is willing to take part in a 10-year treaty of non-aggression with Hitler.

In advance of such a settlement he pledges the honour of his country that Czechoslovakia shall never be used as a basis for any army or air fleet hostile to Germany.

Premier Hodza makes two reservations to this offer—

(1) Czechoslovakia could not agree to disarm.

(2) She could never abandon her defensive agreements with France and Russia.

RENEWED SPEED

Czech Government experts are now working with renewed speed on the final details of the Minorities Statute, which will give a modified form of home rule to 3,000,000 Sudeten Germans in Czechoslovakia.

German approval of the peace plan could only follow a solution of the Sudeten-German problem, for which Britain and France are strongly pressing.

Already Dr. Hodza has made an important concession to the Sudeten leaders.

He promised not to put the statute before Parliament before the Sudeten Germans have had time to examine and approve it in detail.

Officers who, on July 31, hold the rank of wing commander will be brought on to the new scale when it becomes more beneficial to them.

As many officers commanding stations are put to expense in the matter of entertainment, appropriate grants (normally £25 a year) will be made to officers on whom such expenditure falls. These grants will not be given to wing commanders who continue in receipt of command pay.

The command pay at present paid to certain wing commanders and air commodores of the General Duties Branch will be abolished as a separate emolument. The proportion of officers of these ranks at present in receipt of command pay is approximately 20 per cent. and 30 per cent. in the case of wing commanders and air commodores respectively.

NEW AIR MAIL STAMP

Issue By New Zealand

Coinciding with the extension of the Empire air mail service inaugurated recently the New Zealand Government issued air mail King George VI. stamps.

The stamp is based on the King George VI. and is issued. It has the same general arrangement—namely, a Maori border with the King's head in the centre.

The left-hand value tablet has been omitted and the words "Postage and Revenue" are taken over to the left border. The 1d. value tablet occupies the same position as the right-hand tablet in the 1d. and 1d. issues, but is slightly larger. The colour is an attractive shade of dark brown.

Officers who, on July 31, are filling appointments in respect of which command pay is issuable will continue to receive that emolument under present regulations until they vacate those appointments.

The promotion, subject to recommendation, to the substantive rank of flight lieutenant of flying officers of the General Duties Branch after two years' service in the rank, and the initial rate of pay of £1 1s. 9d. on such promotion introduced as a temporary measure, will be made permanent. The increment of pay on the present scale for flying officers of two years' service will be abolished.

MUSICAL REVIEW OF THE WEEK

BY ALLEGRO MODERATO

We were treated to a delightful evening of entertainment at the St. Andrew's Church Hall on Friday night when a variety concert was produced. The hall was packed to capacity by an appreciative audience. Credit has to be given to the Harris brothers, Lawrence and Richard for the excellent programme they arranged. With David Kossick as master of ceremonies and Nura Kanis as accompanist, (except for two numbers when Rupert Baldwin and E. O'Neill Shaw acted) the concert went along on ball bearings.

Gracia Scull, Gaston d'Aquino, Anne Winter, Prue Lewis, Winifred Cox, Andrew Chan, H. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. George Leib, Jack Suiter and Jimmy Ferguson were all delightful in their various contributions.

It was during the second half that Dave Kossick convinced us of his abilities as an excellent M.C. His humorous interludes between numbers kept the audience in high spirits.

However, he made one serious announcement and that was to the effect that Anne Winter would soon be leaving the Colony. What a loss that would be to musical circles! He touched on the unending manner in which she always gave her talents, especially in the cause of charity.

In about another month, local musical activities will again be in full swing. The Philharmonic Society will definitely be producing "Ruddiger" we hear, and the Hong Kong Singers have chosen for their initial work the "Requiem" by Brahms. This will probably be performed on Armistice Day.

We would like to offer our congratulations to Etienne Pellegatti on his Trinity College success, and also on the new addition to his family Luigi Igor Pellegatti.

Dr. Chen Yao-tung, Professor of Law of the Central University, who was China's only delegate at the World Lawyers' Conference in 1936, has been again appointed to attend the conference of the same body to be held in Budapest in September. Dr. Liu Lu-min was also appointed by the Government to attend the conference but is unable to make the journey on account of pressure of business.

THE WEEK IN MACAO

(From Our Own Correspondent)
Macao, August 14.

When Chong Kin-heng, 47, proprietor of the Kwong Chau Hotel in Rue Nove de Comercio, stepped out into the street at 7.45 p.m. last Wednesday, little did he think that he was going to be the target of an assassin's gun. A few seconds later three shots rang out in the crowded street and the hotel owner slumped to the ground, mortally wounded. Chong Bing Siong, 17 year-old nephew of the victim, ran after the gunman and succeeded in catching him, but in the ensuing struggle the assassin shot his would-be captor and made good his escape. Removed to the San Januario Hospital, Chong Kin hong succumbed to his wounds, while the condition of his relative is reported to be serious.

Newcomers

Arrived by last Clipper early last week were Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Conley who are staying in this Colony for about a month. Mr. Conley, of Pan-American Airways, is on relief shift and will temporarily be in charge of the local aviation office.

Don Cossacks

Next weekend Macao will have the opportunity of hearing the famous Don Cossacks Choir at two shows booked for the Dom Pedro Theatre. Local residents are already buying tickets for this polyphonic display of General Platon's Singers.

Death

Mr. Chun Bing-him, Shanghai merchant and financier, died here last week after a long illness. He is survived by several sons and daughters. A native of the Chungshan district the deceased went to Shanghai as a young man and became known as a big commercial and industrial tycoon.

Holidaying

Temporarily relieved at his work in the local Pan-American office, Mr. Barnes is going to holiday in Manila for the next three weeks. Mrs. Barnes is accompanying her husband.

New Pump

Begun last week was the installation work of a new, high-pressure pump at the Green Island station of the Macao Waterworks Company. Up-to-date in equipment, the local water authorities have a reservoir supply far in excess of the Colony's present need.

Clinic

On account of reconstruction work at the San Rafael Hospital the Clinical Department, which has always catered to the medical needs of the poor of the Colony, has been transferred temporarily to the Santa Casa Misericordia. Meanwhile many anonymous contributions have been received at the hospital.

Outside Capital Sought To Develop Resources In West

(BY AIR MAIL FROM OUR CHUNGKING CORRESPONDENT)
LEADING OFFICIALS and merchants in Chungking, headed by General Hoh Kuo-kwang, deputy in charge of the Chungking office of the National Military Commission, are to organize a $5,000,000 corporation to assist the Government in dealing with the unemployment problem which is expected to arise in west China following the rapid influx of war refugees from the lower Yangtze.

Investment of outside capital is to be encouraged in the corporation's scheme to develop the resources of Yunnan, Sinkang, Chinghai, Kansu, Sinkiang and Szechuen. The great possibilities for development in Szechuen alone are considered sufficient inducement for the investment of outside capital.

SZCHUEN, with an area of 493,834 kilometres and a population of 54,010,410, according to the latest figures, has nearly 100,000,000 mu suitable for farming, some 42,000,000 being wet and 54,000,000 dry lands.

Latest experiments have shown that some parts may yield two crops instead of the usual one each year.

In 1933 the yield of rice, wheat, corn and 10 other cereals totalled more than 322,539,000,000 piculs; while 4,975,252 farms also possessed at least 3,400,000 heads of cattle, 5,000,000 sheep, 200,000 mules, 8,000,000 hogs and 15,000,000 fowls.

VAST RESOURCES

SZCHUEN has vast deposits of all the principal metals, most of them absolutely untouched. In addition there are the special industries of producing salt, tung oil, silk, bristle and sugar. Coal is found everywhere in the province. Medicinal herbs abound.

Due to lack of transportation and the existence of "feudalism" until recently, Szechuen foreign trade has been nothing to boast of and in the past two or three years exports were only $40,579,518 and imports $66,910,434.

French interests are already assisting with a loan of more than $35,000,000 for the Chengtu-Chungking railway. Szechuen at present has only a light railway, the Peh Chuen, of 50 kilometres, mainly for transporting coal to Pehpei. The new line will be more than 500 miles long.

TRAVEL BOOM

NOT COUNTING those under construction more or less as a military measure, Szechuen today has about 5,700 kilometres of public highways. Transportation on these roads should provide a good business investment.

Up to the present, lack of capital and unwise policy have cut down traffic receipts and at present it is impossible to get to Chengtu from Chungking on a public bus without buying tickets two weeks in advance.

The Government is to add 100 more buses to the service provided negotiations for a loan of $500,000 prove successful.

Communication in Szechuen still depends much on waterways and there is now a steam route of 2,950 li in addition to the junk route of 6,160 li.

GENERALISSIMO CHIANG THE CHINESE NATION

Confident Of Victory In War Against Japan

Hankow, August 13.

The terrible plight of 150,000,000 Chinese people in 2,000,000 square kilometres of Chinese territory now under forcible Japanese occupation was brought to attention by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek on the eve of the anniversary of the Shanghai hostilities in a stirring message.

"We must remember that these vast tracts of territory overrun by Japanese iron hoofs are our own soil, and these millions of people under the shackle of unbearable oppression our own people, and resolve to liberate them from a shame and ignominy which must be shared by every single member of the whole Chinese race," Generalissimo Chiang exhorted.

Detailing the unspeakable horror which is the lot of the Chinese people in the occupied areas, the Generalissimo said it is clear by their endless atrocities of bombing, killing, pillaging, raping, dragging and kidnapping, that the Japanese not only desire to enslave the Chinese nation, but also to exterminate the Chinese race.

If the Chinese people did not rise in face of such provocations unprecedented in the annals of history, not only would the Chinese race be wiped out, but also truth and humanity would cease to exist in the world, Generalissimo Chiang said.

SACRIFICES NOT IN VAIN

Generalissimo Chiang reminded the Chinese that their sufferings and sacrifices were not in vain but constituted a price for China's independence and freedom. He said that as the Generalissimo he must be held responsible for their sufferings and sacrifices.

On this occasion of the first anniversary of the hostilities in the Shanghai area he has deep concern with the Chinese troops fighting on the front as well as the Chinese people in Japanese-occupied areas heroically struggling against the enemy.

DEEP PATRIOTISM

He has taken to heart how for the past seven years the 30,000,000 Chinese in the North-eastern provinces have continued to struggle against the Japanese under extremely difficult circumstances. He has also taken to heart how through the guerrilla warfare staged by the Chinese peasants and others the Japanese have only been able to occupy the principal cities in North China in the past year, leaving wide areas still in Chinese hands.

He knew also that the Chinese along the lower reaches of the Yangtze River have been effectively harassing the Japanese with their guerrilla tactics, that Chinese patriots in Nanking and Shanghai have created disturbances in the enemy's rear and have slain many traitors, and that on July 7, the first anniversary of the Lukouchiao Incident, Chinese national and Party flags were flying all over the International Settlement and the French Concession in Shanghai.

All these indicate that Japanese military force has failed to blot out the deep patriotism of the Chinese people, Generalissimo Chiang commented.

He exhorted the Chinese to continue the struggle against the enemy with an undaunted spirit. Those in Japanese-occupied areas, he said, should never surrender to the enemy nor co-operate with the bogus governments.

Speaking of the outcome of the war, the Generalissimo in his message maintained his conviction that final victory must be with the Chinese people. Instead of encroaching gradually on Chinese territory, which is the most subtle and dangerous method, Japan now planned to conquer China in a single bite and already she has got herself choked up by swallowing too much.

CHINA HOLDS THE UPPER HAND

Generalissimo Chiang said militarily, politically, spiritually and diplomatically, China, in the present war has gained the upper hand against the Japanese.

In military tactics, the Chinese operations have shattered the Japanese hope for a quick war; and have forced the invading army to tread deeper and deeper into a vast quagmire from which it will find it impossible to extricate. The Chinese resistance will increase as the Japanese difficulties multiply.

Politically, Japan has failed miserably in her shady intrigues to split and divide the Chinese people, who were never more united in solid support of the Government.

In waging this war of resistance, the Chinese people have pierced the mythical bubble of Japanese invincibility and gained self-confidence. The entire people of the nation, down to every man of the street, firmly believe that they will win the ultimate victory and will, through this baptism of fire, regain freedom and equality. National consciousness and the Three Principles of the People of the late Party leader Dr. Sun Yat-sen have been deeply implanted in every Chinese heart.

DREAM SHATTERED

In contrast to this Chinese spiritual superiority the Japanese dream of subjugating China and even the world has been dashed through one year's Chinese war of resistance whilst anti-war sentiments are steadily growing in the Japanese rank and file.

Diplomatically, China's international prestige has been heightened immeasurably as Japan's has sunk low with the war. The world's sympathy is entirely with China as she fights for world justice and peace. Through her aggression and ruthlessness, Japan has made herself the enemy of all peace-loving nations, thus throwing herself into international isolation.

DEFEAT DESTINED

Summing up his observations, Generalissimo Chiang declared that Japan's defeat has been destined whilst China is steadily marching on her way to final victory. What is needed for scoring this final victory is a major military success which, he believes, is at hand.

"In their attempt to drive up-river to the Wuhan area the Japanese," Generalissimo Chiang stated, "are throwing themselves into a trap. We will deliver a heavy blow to them in the districts on both the north and south banks of the Yangtze River adjoining the Wuhan area."

"We will defend the Wuhan area with our might and main," Generalissimo Chiang asserted, "we have full confidence that we can shatter the plans of the Japanese to capture this area. In fact, the Japanese are already trapped in a quagmire. The more reinforcements they send the greater losses they will sustain."

Characterising the Japanese unwise military strategy in this war as unprecedented in history, Generalissimo Chiang predicted that they will also suffer the greatest defeat in history.

With full self-confidence and grim determination the Chinese nation will present an impregnable front and will inflict a deadly blow to the enemy. "The imminent great struggle will mark the beginning of China's final victory," Generalissimo said. — (Central News).

EXTENSION TO NEWHAM

Opened By The Queen Mother

London, August 13

Queen Mary went to Cambridge yesterday to declare open the first section of the extension of Newnham College—one of the two women's colleges at Cambridge, which was founded in 1875.

Afterwards Her Majesty received purses in aid of the Building Fund and made a tour of the buildings, taking tea with the Principal and Fellows before returning to Sandringham.

The extension has been made necessary by the increases in number of both Fellows and students in recent years.

The architects responsible for the new building are Messrs. Scott, Shepherd and Breakwell, who include among their partners, Miss Elizabeth Scott, architect of the Shakespear Memorial Theatre at Stratford-on-Avon.—(British Wire-les).

REPUBLICANS REPULSED

Heavy Fighting In El Toro

Barcelona, August 13.

The Republican War Ministry bulletin reports from the eastern front that an enemy attack on the Republican positions on the right bank of the River Segre was repulsed.

On the north sector, the insurgents succeeded, with heavy losses, in occupying Hills 898 and 705 near Santa Magdalena.

The Republicans, however, recaptured the hills and repulsed new attacks on Hill 698.

FOUR PLANES DOWN

Four planes were shot down in the course of an aerial battle between 28 Republican and 39 insurgent planes, while the Republicans lost only two planes.

Heavy fighting has been in progress since dawn on Friday in the western sector of El Toro on the Levant front. Nationalist positions near Casata De Arnau in the Universales Mountains were pressed back. Under the following strong enemy pressure, the Republicans had to make slight corrections of the conquered positions.

Heavy fighting is in progress on the Estremadura front near Gabeza del Buy, which is being violently attacked.—(Transocean).

SIXTEEN DEAD IN AIR CRASH

Freiburg, August 14.

Sixteen persons lost their lives in an appalling air disaster which occurred in the neighbourhood of Offenburg in South Germany on Saturday forenoon.

The regular passenger plane, belonging to the Czechoslovak Airlines, which left Prague at 9 a.m. for Paris crashed in the hilltop in Black Forest whilst passing through a bank of heavy mist.

The machine caught fire and all the occupants, as far as it is known, were either killed outright or perished in the flames.—(Transocean).

DOCTRINE IN THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND

Bishop Hall Preaches Second Of Course Of Sermons Ordination Service

Taking as his subject, "The place of the Minister," Bishop R. O. Hall, delivered the second of a course of sermons on "Doctrine in the Church of England," at St. John's Cathedral yesterday morning when there was a service of Ordination.

Poon Kai-ming, of Dunching, was ordained Deacon, and Philip Wong, of Nanning, Arthur Charman, of Posh, and Osmond Psekett, of Nanning, were ordained Priest.

In his sermon, the Bishop said:— I want to suggest to you this morning that these two acts of the Bishop in ordination correspond to the two sides of our life: the first, the laying on of hands, to all that is unseen, the second, the giving of a Bible, to all that is seen.

We do not know, we cannot know, all that Jesus' coming into the world means to God and to men. We can attempt to understand it, we can define the Incarnation, the Atonement, the Resurrection, but you cannot confine God in doctrine. We cannot express the unseen entirely in the seen. We can never give complete expression to the Spirit of God in the ideas and words of human speech. God must always remain more than we can know or understand.

The possibilities of His activity, the potentiality of His Spirit in His creation, must always go beyond our understanding. This is true in many other things. The electric tramcar, for example, is driven by contact with a force far greater than its motion or its lighting can describe. These remarkable uses are only a tiny fraction of the potentiality of electricity.

LAYING ON OF HANDS

When you kneel for the laying on of hands, you are in the same way putting yourself in touch with the vast and boundless energy of God. The laying on of hands is in very truth a mystery. It is an outward and visible sign of the commission given to Jesus Christ and committed by Him to His followers, by them committed to their successors, and so to us and by us to others.

But we must not limit God. We do not claim by this or any other rite of the Church that by this way, and this way alone, God will touch the hearts of men. It is rather a recognition that He does so touch them; that contact between man and God, between God and man, is a central fact in human life. The laying on of hands is an expression of our faith that in Christ there was a special commission, a special touching of mankind by God, a healing, a redeeming, a restoring, an invigorating with a new spirit. We who have been drawn by strange ways, perhaps, to enter the ministry of the Church, are called to carry on in our day and generation the special work of redemption begun by God in Christ two thousand years ago.

THE BIBLE RECORDS THE SEEN THINGS

This brings us to the second act, the giving and receiving of a Bible. The laying on of hands stands for all that is unseen, for the fact that, like the tramcar, we are in touch with something infinitely more than we can understand or express. But the giving of the Bible stands for things that have been seen and known of God. We do not know all there is to know about God—but we do know, and the Bible records our knowledge, that He has done this, that He has done that. He called Abraham. He wrestled with Jacob in the dark watches of the night. He inspired Moses and many other prophets who followed him. And so the Jews alone of all those Semitic tribes came to know and be known by the one true God. But that is just the beginning.

The New Testament records more tangible things. St. John writes "things we have seen with our eyes and our hands handled." (I John 1, 1). Here are written out for us the things that Jesus did, the things He said, the things that happened after His death, the possession of the soul of St. Paul by the Spirit of God, and that remarkable story which we call the Acts of the Apostles and which should be called the acts of the Holy Spirit working through the Apostles.

DISPENSERS OF THE WORD

After the laying on of hands you will receive the Bible at the hands of the Church. By the Church I do not only mean the Bishop. In this I am only Chairman, representative of that whole company of faithful people which is the visible church of God on earth. We entrust to you the Bible. The words I use in the name of the Church are that you be a faithful dispenser of the word of God. Will you think for a minute of this word "dispenser"? A dispenser is not the doctor. He does not diagnose. He does not prescribe. He does what he is told. He has to know his way about the shelves where the various drugs are kept so that he can quickly make up the prescriptions given to him by the doctor.

Here, in the Bible, are the drugs which are required for the patient's healing given to you. You are asked to be faithful in giving them, the medicine they need for the healing of their souls. But remember, there is Someone Else in the dispensary. As dispenser you are never alone. I remember what a relief it was to you all in Nanning when, after several years without a doctor, a new doctor arrived. Here was someone with knowledge and training and authority, on whom you could depend. The doctor who is always with you in this dispensary of the word of God is Jesus Christ Himself. I beg you never to forget it. Let Jesus interpret the word of God to you.

Make sure, for example, that in matters of polygamy those whom you teach know Jesus and His spirit more vividly than the dramatic story of the patriarch who, not content with two wives, took their handmaidens also, and from this polygamous act the promise of God that Abraham should become a great people was fulfilled.

CONFUSION

You must beware of confusing the minds of those you teach. There will be confusion unless you are always conscious that Jesus is at your side in the dispensary. It is only His prescriptions and His remedies that you must give. "I determined," said St. Paul, "not to know anything, save Jesus Christ and Him crucified."

Preach the word, but let that preaching be always of the Incarnate Word; Jesus of Nazareth. Let Him in whom, as St. Paul said, are fulfilled all the promises of God—let Him stand out always in all that you do or say. Do not preach Sabbatarianism or non-alcoholism or even purity of heart.

Reunion Dinner In Colony

Some thirty members and ex-members of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps gathered for a reunion dinner at the Hong Kong Club on Friday evening, the anniversary of the mobilisation of the S.V.C. on the occasion of the outbreak of the Sino-Japanese hostilities on August 12, 1937.

Captain E. A. R. Fowles, formerly Officer in Command of the Air Defence Company of the S.V.C. was in the chair.

During the evening telegrams were dispatched to the nine units of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps represented at the dinner.

Lieut. J. M. Calvert, R.E., closely associated with the S.V.C. during last year's mobilisation, was a guest.

The dinner was arranged by Messrs. J. B. H. Leckie and G. Mills.

URBAN COUNCIL MEETING

The Urban Council, which meets tomorrow at 4.15 p.m., will consider the following applications for licences:—

Food factory licence for No. 52, Tai Yuen Street, ground floor.

Milk shop licence for No. 41, Pili-kem Street, ground floor.

Do not preach ethics of any kind or conduct of any kind. Preach only Jesus Christ and Him crucified. With Him to guide you, you will be a faithful dispenser of the word. You will be able to use this whole Book with profit to yourself and to others.

Lastly, remember this. The Book is given to you by the Church. You do not go to the altar of God and take the Book for yourself. On your knees you receive it from the Church of God. If you are in any doubt as to what the Book means, as to what Jesus Christ would have you do, and you have no clear vision, do not trust your own judgment, seek from the living Church of God light upon your path and interpretation of the word.

You are being ordained as ministers of the Church which, beginning in England, is now worldwide. We claim to interpret the Bible. We claim, for example, that the three-fold order of ministry is a true interpretation of the word of God. There are others who dispute this. You must be loyal to the Church whose ministry you have accepted. But it is a living Church and you must take your share also in its thought and in its practice.

If Martin Luther was right, and I believe he was, there will always be a place for new Martin Luthers. New interpretations of old facts, new understandings of the deep faith of the Church will come to each generation. You must ever be open and ready of mind to receive these things. The Christian religion is not the religion of a book.

It is a religion of the activity of God. It believes that God so loved the world that He sent His only-begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him, should not perish, but have everlasting life. This Jesus, in whom we believe, promised that the Spirit of God in no small measure would come upon us when He had left our visible sight, and that this Spirit would lead us into all truth.

Our ministry, therefore, must be always in this way two-fold—a witness to the illimitable greatness of God and a loyalty to the Church whose ministry we have accepted, which ever struggles to express in very human terms the love of God which passeth all understanding.

COMMERCIAL INSTITUTE

Annual Graduation Function

The 6th Commencement Exercises and Concert of the H. K. Commercial Institute were held yesterday at Queen's Theatre in the presence of a large gathering of parents, students and friends.

The progress of the Institute during the year was reviewed by Mr. H. K. Yew, A.F.T. Com. F.F.C.S., the headmaster. The aim of the Institute is to prepare students for the London Examination conducted by Faculty of Secretaries, Institute of Commerce, Institute of Bookkeepers or other examining bodies.

Out of 130 students who took the examination, 122 were successful, and most of them had obtained very high marks. Chan Shun Shui secured the Faculty's bronze medal.

In making his report for the year, Mr. Yew said that the roll numbered 219.

The Employment Bureau also had acted very actively in introducing jobs and positions to the graduates and students.

He thanked the tutorial staff, Mr. J. P. Cooper, B. Com., S. Y. Tan, B. Com., B.A., etc., for their kind co-operation throughout the year.

The prizes, London Diplomas and local Certificates were distributed by the Hon. Director, Mr. To Ki Cheung, who in his speech emphasised that Commerce makes a nation, a well disciplined business man makes Commerce.

After the distribution of the prizes and medals, an enjoyable concert, consisting of some Chinese plays and songs, was given by the students.

HANKOW OBSERVES WAR ANNIVERSARY

Hankow, August 14.

Standing besides the ruins of Japanese air bombings, women and children shouted.

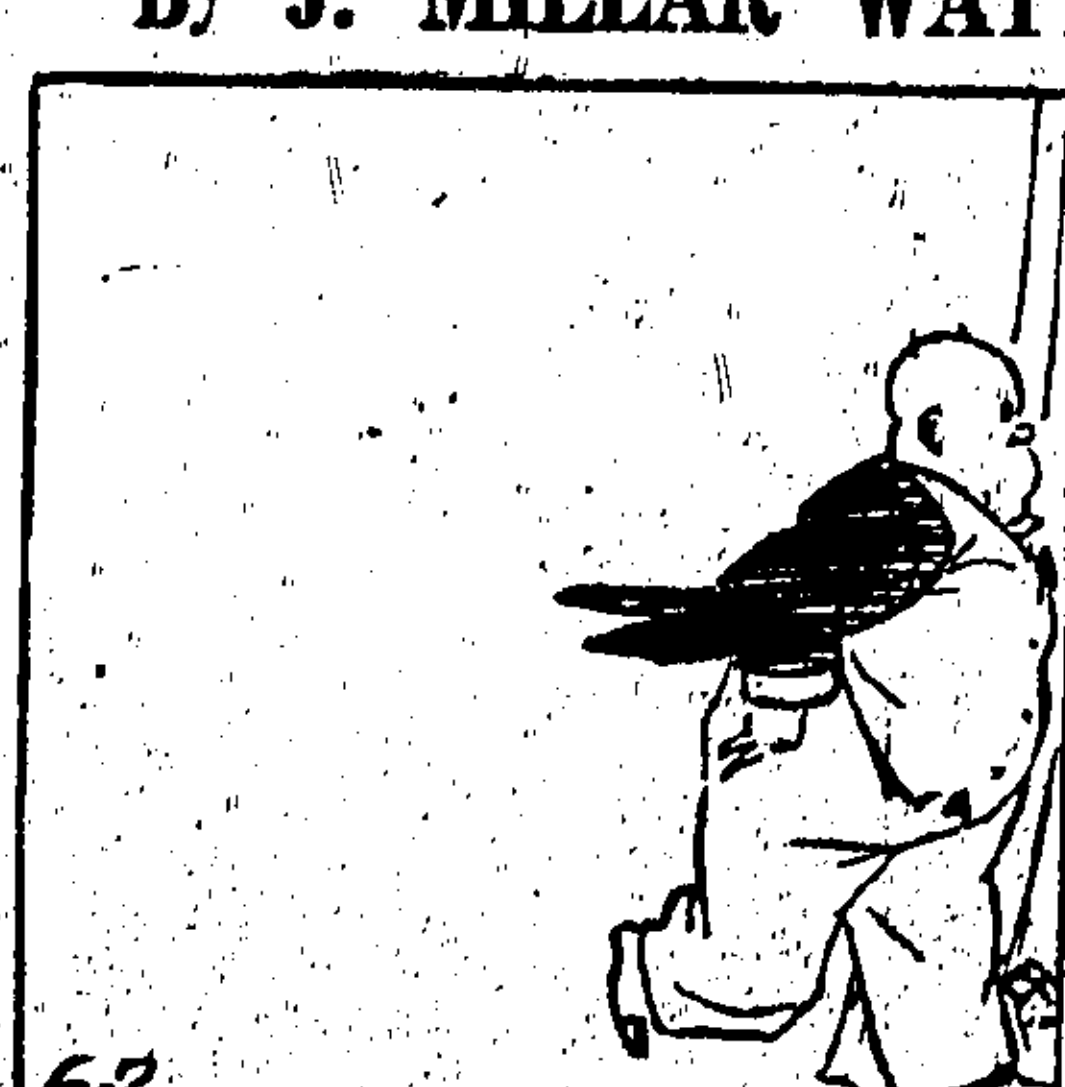

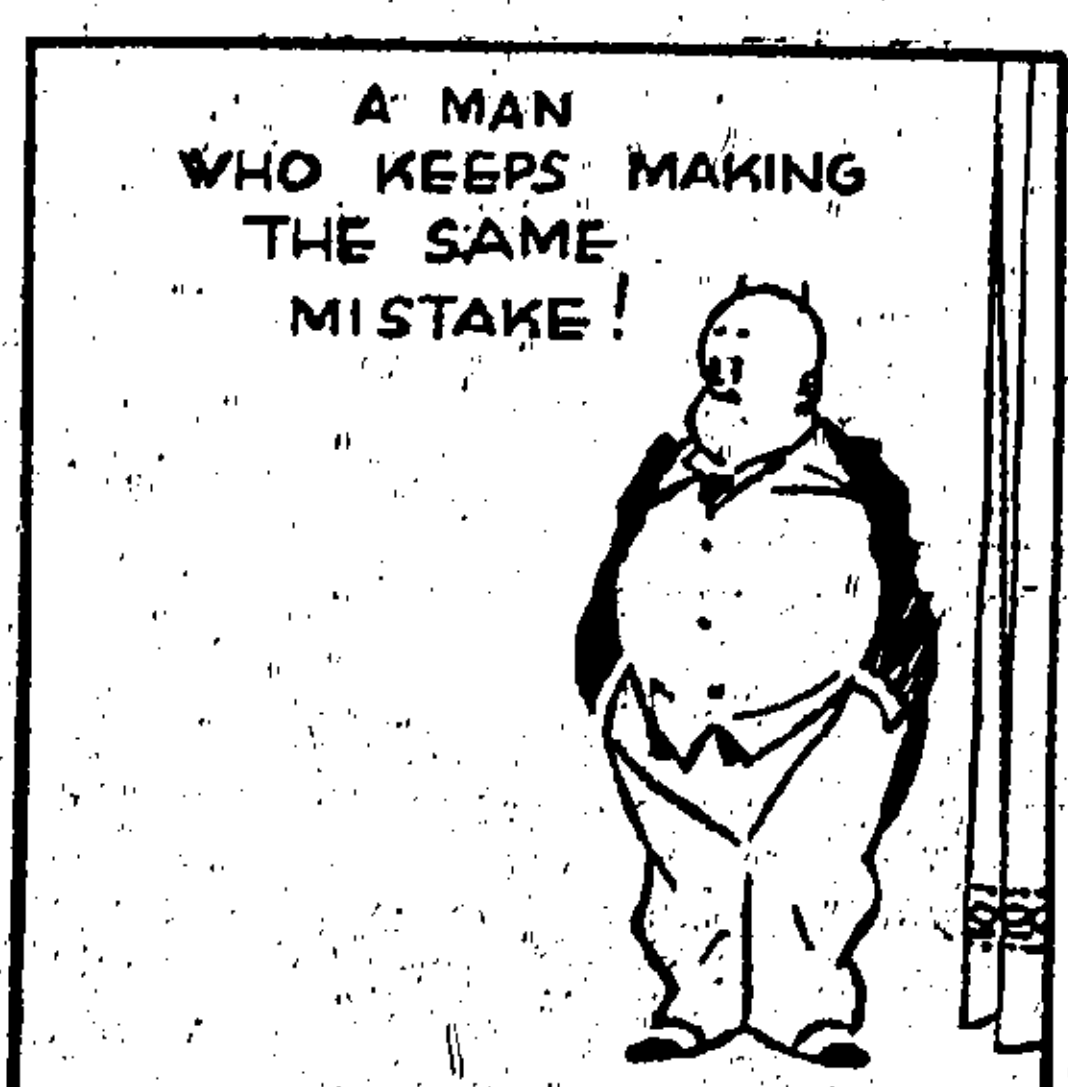

"Down with the Japanese militarists," when publicity corps approached them to explain the significance of the war of resistance.

This was a unique picture of what happened in the Wuhan cities yesterday which the Chinese solemnly observed the first anniversary of the hostilities in the Shanghai area.

A hundred publicity corps were sent out extending comfort to the wounded soldiers and refugees and to impress the people with the importance of resisting Japan to the bitter end.

At 8 a.m. shortly after an air raid mass meetings were held in Hankow and Wpohang. Decisions were reached at the meetings to send telegrams to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, paying respects to him for his leadership, and to the Chinese troops fighting at the front as well as the wounded soldiers and the families of the fallen heroes, extending comfort to them.—(Central News).

Lord Horder's
Tribute

Welcoming visitors at the luncheon of the Ex-Services Welfare Society at the Grosvenor Hotel, S.W. 1, recently, Lord Horder, the vice-president, extended a special welcome to the Press, to which he paid a high tribute.

"I am always pleased to see them," he said. "Even though they seem to know everybody's secrets, including ours, we do not mind because we have the fullest faith in the integrity of the British Press today. So far as secrets are concerned I would sooner tell the Press, secrets than many other people."

Summarising the results of the society's conference, which was held in the morning, the chief consultant, Dr. Edward Mapother, who is Professor of Psychiatry at London University, said it was the fourth, and most successful, held.

Head injuries and their relation to neurasthenia and mental disorders were dealt with, and special attention was paid to the cases of "shell shock" from the war. Motor traffic accidents were another cause. In the 200,000 cases with 6,000 deaths each year, about 4 per cent of the survivors had serious head injuries—often with lasting effects.

Admiral of the Fleet Sir
Reginald Tyrwhitt, presided.

For driving his car against a red light signal, V. M. M. Hammond was fined $10 at the Kowloon Court
by Mr. Macfadyen on Saturday.

BETTER WORLD
OUTLOOK

WITHOUT building too confidently upon the significance of world events, we are entitled to feel satisfaction at the movement
towards international agreements
and its continued success.

Those who are apt to look on the dark side have stressed the peril of a world in arms. Through international distrust and the exhaustion of credits they have seen "trade's proud empire hastening to decay."

They have watched the flames of war raging in China and in Spain
with fearsome dread of the devastation extending towards other lands. There is at least equal reason at the present moment to emphasise the growing factors that make for security and peace.

GERMANY has agreed to guarantee Britain against certain losses on the loans raised by Austria before annexation, and to pay
the interest on her own long-term
debts, while contracting to improve facilities for Anglo-German trade.
The Anglo-German naval agreement providing for a 35 per cent
German navy in comparison with 100 per cent. British, still operates.

The Anglo-Italian agreement
offers certain guarantees of peace
in the Mediterranean, and its influence will be towards the withdrawal of foreign forces

in Spain, upon which depends the agreement's effective operation.

Turning to the other side of the world we find Great Britain and the United States are coming closer to each other for mutual interests.

Through all the inspiring tendencies it is possible to see the strong, but restrained hand of British diplomacy. Many—very many—of those who have gloried
in the world-wide respect for the British flag, and the safe passport
it has given to the Empire citizen,
have felt sorrow and anger because of the scant notice given to British protests by Japan, at the apparent weakness of the Government in tolerating the bombing of British ships in Spanish ports, at the humiliation that appeared to have supplanted British pride and dignity.

Meantime, the building of British armaments by sea, land and air,
has gone ahead with an unflinching purpose. Mr. Chamberlain's policy is not influenced by the taunts of political opponents or the misgivings of his own countrymen.

HE SAYS that he does not believe in gasconade or bluff, but in a reserve of strength, which means reality. He says he does not believe the country desires a challenging, aggressive attitude. "If there is no other way of preserving freedom," he adds, "we will fight
again."

The story of the profit-making
British, or ostensibly British ships,
in Spanish ports, will not lessen indignation at discrimination bom-

SPANISH
BOMBINGS

JAPAN'S POLICY EXPOSED

HONG KONG AUGUST 14, 1938.

JAPAN'S apologists profess to be distressed at the inability of foreign observers to appreciate the friendly intentions of the slaughtering hosts sent overseas to invade the territory of an inoffensive nation whose one desire was to be left in peace to work out her own salvation, and whose worst offence was to show repentment at unsolicited and aggressive interference.

The Japanese Government sent many "goodwill envoys" to Great Britain, the United States, and other countries to assist its diplomats in explaining that the "Holy War" now being waged is really intended to liberate the Chinese people from deadly perils threatening their destruction, but no success has attended these efforts to convince foreign observers of Japan's altruistic aims. That British opinion should remain most suspicious of Japan's intention is quite distressing, and a vituperative campaign has been carried out in the Japanese press, denouncing our "old ally" not only for doubting Japan's sincerity but for actively "assisting" China to resist the campaign
"to beat China to her knees" by way of demonstrating Japanese goodwill.

The Japanese people are taught to believe that the present state of Anglo-Japanese relations arises from Britain's refusal to co-operate with Japan.

But co-operation implies give and take. How can there be co-operation when one party says "no" to every proposal the other party makes?

Japan has rejected every important proposal Britain has made in recent years. In 1935 Britain sent its highest economic adviser to Japan to propose Anglo-Japanese co-operation for the economic recovery of China. There were no political conditions.

The offer was rejected, but nevertheless the plan succeeded and Japan, with others, reaped the benefit in a large increase of her exports to China in the first half of 1937.

In 1937 Britain invited Japan to join the other naval Powers in an agreement not to mount guns larger than 14 inches on capital ships. Again Japan's answer was "no." That refusal was the starting point of later developments which are going to lay heavy burdens
on the tax-payers of Japan, Britain and everybody else.

The immediate result was the substitution of 16 inch guns for the 14-inch maximum that all nations except Japan had adopted.
Bigger guns need bigger ships.

Japan alleges that Britain, the United States, and France want bigger ships, and their recent enquiry was a trick designed to lay on Japan the guilt of a new naval race—what a mind!

But if the Powers now require bigger ships, the reason obviously is that Japan alone declined to accept the smaller guns.

Japan complains that Britain has "banged the door" of her oversea Dominions against Japan's trade. Here we would point out that the British Empire is Japan's best customer.

The figures for 1937 show that Japan's exports to the British Empire amounted to 882 million Yen, to the United States 630 million, to Germany 47 million, and to Italy 43 million.

This means that the British Empire bought from Japan last year
nearly ten times the amount purchased by Japan's Anti-Comintern friends.

How Britain Won Her
Empire

PROFESSOR'S
VIEWS

WARS OF NATIONAL DEFENCE

Moderation In Victory

Professor R. Coupland, Professor of Colonial History at Oxford University, addressing
the British Empire Summer School at Cambridge recently,
declared that the wars out of which Great Britain gained
part of the Empire were wars
of national defence.

"They were wars against Philip II, of Spain, Louis XIV, of France, against Napoleon, and against the German Empire of 1914," he said.

"I must assert that in none of those wars was England the aggressor. They were fought to defend the liberty and independence of England—and I include
the last—against the domination
of some Great Power. I would claim again that England has shown, broadly speaking, a moderation in victory."

He claimed that the Boer War
was not a deliberate, long-planned aggression, and soon afterwards
self-government was conceded to the defeated Boers.

ABYSSINIA'S FUTURE

"When one is told that the Italian conquest of Abyssinia
is just such another African story, I am prepared to consider it if, in the course of ten years, the Government of Abyssinia in an Abyssinian

bing, but it will at least soothe the feelings of pugnacity.

There is special interest for the Empire in Mr. Chamberlain's declaration of economic policy. England went through a harrowing decade in the middle of last century, when she sacrificed landed production for industrialism, in the hope of becoming "the workshop of the world."

There are many powerful industrial competitors, but she is not going back. While maintaining efforts to produce and store foodstuffs, she must, according to the Prime Minister, continue to import those commodities "in the wider imperial interest, and for the safeguarding of British markets."
The British Government's confidence in Britain's power to keep the seas is impressive.

Government, and if such few Italian settlers as are there willingly accept the rule
of an Abyssinian regime."

India, he said, would not have been a free self-governing country
if it had in some way escaped British rule. It would quite certainly have been conquered and governed
either by another European Power
or by Japan.

There was no particular glory in the story of the acquisition of the Empire, and no particular virtue,
except in so far as the humanitarian tradition was responsible in some degree for the expansion of the Empire.

GERMANY AND COLONIES

Professor Ernest Barker, Professor of Political Science at Cambridge, speaking on "The Conception of Empire in History," said—

"We must count the education in responsibility that results from the assumption of control and guidance of peoples in new continents."

"There has been little enough of that education in responsibility
until this day, but it is coming to be felt to be necessary. The fact that it is coming so to be felt leads to the conclusion that the great peoples of Europe and, not least,
I honestly feel, the Germans, should have their share in this responsibility."

"We English have had it in large measure, but we have not a unique gift, after all, for assuming this responsibility or for growing in mental stature by undertaking it.
There is reason for thinking that it would be good for Europe and good for the world if such responsibility and the development
it brings to a European people were evened out."

What Our Readers Say

LETTER FOR ALL
STUDENTS

[To the Editor of the Hong Kong
Daily Press]

Dear Sir.—We would be very much obliged if you will kindly insert the enclosed letter in your valuable columns. It is a letter designed for all the students
in the Colony, both foreign and Chinese. The senders of this letter are the Christian bodies of the different schools and universities of Canton and Hong Kong. If it is considered too long it is at your pleasure to alter its length.

With our heartiest thanks,

We are—

Yours faithfully,

Kwangtung Christian

Students' Union

(President)

SAO WEI SAN,

Hong Kong Christian

Students' Union

(President)

MOK KAI WING.

THE LETTER

Dear Fellow Students.

In the middle of this war of resistance, which we are waging against our aggressor not only for the liberation and independence of our own nation but also for world
peace and the principles of humanity and justice, we wish first of all to pay our deepest respect
to our brave warriors who are daily shedding their blood in order to withstand the onslaught of the enemy.

At the same time, we wish to record our thanks to the aggressor
for the lessons he has taught us
in his maddening bombings of our undefended cities and his brutal massacres of innocent people,
which have only resulted in strengthening the anti-aggression
front and in consolidating our faith
in our final victory.

In reviewing the experiences and lessons, which the twelve odd
months of the war have given us,
we find that the aggressor has been continually resorting to the most baneful means of destruction in order to shatter the pillars of our national resistance. Numerous cultural institutions have been wantonly destroyed. Thousands of young students have been massacred. Besides, the number of our fellow students that have been thrown out of employment or of study is daily increasing. All this is bound to have an effect, directly or indirectly, upon the ultimate strength of our resistance.

Fellow students! Now that it has become quite clear to us that our opponent will not stop at anything less than a total subjugation of our entire race, if we would, at such a critical moment of life and death,
still not mobilise our efforts and unite together to avert the overhanging danger, then the consequences will be simply unimaginable.

METHODS TO HELP
Many of our fellow students have lost their occupations or their chances of study as a result of the war. Have we ever given their cases any consideration? Have we,
who have still an opportunity to pursue our study abroad or elsewhere, ever tried to think out some methods to help them? This age will tolerate no hesitancy on our part. We must realise that it is our duty. The more so, when we remember that we are Christian
students.

As Christians, we should bear
this responsibility that has been assigned us by the age and demonstrate by our work the Christian spirit of sacrificing oneself for the truth. In the past, we, in the form of student unions, and student Y.M.C.A.s, have indeed never failed to contribute our part in all anti-aggression and national salvation movements. Such activities include raising money by subscription, canvassing for sale of liberty
bonds, service in rural areas, promotion of mass education, medical units and ambulances, helping the war refugees, etc.

Now that we are entering upon
the third stage of this war of resistance, our responsibility becomes all the greater, the nearer
we are approaching the critical moment. With a view to recounting what we have accomplished in the past and planning for the future, we have towards the end of July convened a meeting of the representatives of the Christian organisations of the various schools
and universities of Canton and Hong Kong.

It was the general opinion of that assembly that work during the past year had not been crowned with very great success owing to the fact that each student organisation pursued its own course.
And so it was resolved that henceforth the students of Canton and

Hong Kong must establish a closer relationship, and must have a united front adopting uniform
measures in all their activities, in order that efficiency in the work of national reconstruction and in the conduct of the war against aggression might be enhanced.

Eventually delegates were sent by both the Kwangtung Christian
Students' Union and the Hong Kong
Christian Students' Union to meet and discuss means for forming themselves into a joint organisation. The object of this is to proceed with the work of the Canton
and the Hong Kong students in their participation of their great task of national reconstruction,
and to draw up a detailed scheme
of work, showing the various objects and programmes for the realisation and carrying out of which the student organisations of the different schools and universities are either required to work together or to co-operate with the National Association of Y.M.C.A.s, and the different city Y.M.C.A.s, or Church societies.

Our immediate programme is now
to set in motion the machinery
for relieving such of our fellow
students as have been deprived of occupation or of study and also for rendering service to the masses, so as to magnify the spirit of Jesus Christ and to redouble our efforts
against our aggressor.

For this purpose we have decided upon the two following tasks:—

(1) Relief for those students that have been thrown out of study—
the number of homeless youths and students that have been thrown out of study as a result of the war is very great. With a view to strengthening our efforts in this war of resistance and conserving man-power for the great task of national reconstruction, this association has taken measures to raise money for the relief of such
students and youths and appoint
people for attending to the work.

Moral or material assistance will be given to such of our fellow
students as have been deprived of
their chances of study, each according to his or her individual conditions.

It is hoped on the one hand that our fellow students will not spare
any efforts in helping this attempt to raise funds, whilst on the other hand it is also hoped that they will bring to the notice of this organisation any such students as require assistance.

SERVICE TO MASSES
(2) Rendering service to the masses—It is our conviction that the most important work in this war of resistance and for national reconstruction lies in educating the masses so as to give them a real and clear understanding of the whole issue, and in training first-aid corps so as to enable them to dress their own wounded in time of needs. Consequently we have planned to form a number of long-term service units which will go into the country and work with the people and for the people.

On the one hand, we hope that by this means we shall be able to utilize to the best of purpose the energies of such of our fellow students as have either been thrown out of employment or of study or have been anxious to participate in such organised work; on the other hand, we hope that this will result in strengthening our efforts
in the terrible war of resistance.

The above two items are merely
what we have most recently decided as the most urgent work to be done. Besides, there are indeed numerous others of equal importance, for instance, relief for the war refugees, and first-aid work
among the wounded civilians, etc.
It is hoped that those school and university unions that have already started or that are going to start their schemes of such work
will proceed with them according to their plan and with greater vigour.

If co-operation of a greater scale
is considered necessary, they are assured that this organisation is always ready to give assistance.
And, if there is any new kind of work that is of importance, let it be known that this organisation
will too not hesitate in committing itself to its realisation.
Nevertheless, we are aware that our powers are limited, whilst our task is big and heavy. All our hope is that our fellow students,
and the public will give us their earnest support and advice, that they will participate in all the activities that will lead to the realisation of the design of our highest leader.

We wish to add that in this great
age, it is only through the possession of the sacrificing spirit of Jesus Christ that we can hope to gain the national independence
and liberation of China and the World Peace!

JAPANESE TRY TO MAGNIFICENT RESPONSE BY CANTON

"Offer Gold Campaign" Finds Staunch Support

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Canton, August 14.

In spite of repeated hovering of Japanese planes overhead and intermittent rain, the people here have contributed over $400,000 in local currency on the first anniversary of the Shanghai war, a check-up revealed today.

The ceremony of "offering gold" was made in the early morning at Central Park in a ceremony presided over by General Wu Te-chen. Representatives of many government offices and public bodies were present.

Last night government employees staged a parade in commemoration of this event.

With the relaxation of the Soviet border clashes, two Japanese aircraft carriers are now stationed in Kwangtung waters. Forty bombers from these tenders carried out extensive air raids along the Canton-Kowloon and Canton-Hankow Railway yesterday.

Because the Canton-Kowloon Railway is subject to frequent air raids, Japanese reports stated that the Canton authorities have offered the sale of the line to the British. This report has no foundation whatever.

Owing to the bombing of this line, the incoming train from Kowloon arrived in the early hours this morning instead of 10 p.m. last night. Train schedules were upset by the repeated bombings on this line, although Japanese reports admitted that very little damage was caused by this railway.

The Japanese navy coordinated in the harassing tactics by making a landing on Tungshan Island north-east of Swatow. The inhabitants fled before the landing of the bluejackets, who found nothing on the island and later returned to their warships.

TROLLEY BUSES FOR CANTON

SUCCESSFUL ROAD TESTS

The first of the 70 two-axled trolley bus chassis, building at Leyland Motors Ltd., for the Canton authorities, was recently put through its road test by Leyland and G.E.C. officials. By arrangement with the managing director of the South Lancashire Transport Co., the test was conducted on that company's Swinton-Walkden route.

Service conditions were approached as nearly as possible during the run, the chassis being subjected to crawling speeds and numerous stops and starts, whilst braking, acceleration and balancing speed figures were taken over a variety of road surfaces. The South Lancashire Transport driver was enthusiastic about the position and quick responsive action of the controls and the smooth operation of the foot brake, which consists of a motor-driven compressed air system controlled by automatic governor.

Owing to bus weight restrictions in Canton, the chassis was laden to a gross weight of only 8 tons. This will be the approximate gross weight of the completed bus, with its Chinese-built composite body and a load of 40 passengers. The chassis has been designed for a maximum speed of only 27 m.p.h., which is all that is necessary.

Tension Growing More Apparent In Prague

SUDETEN SITUATION STRAINED WHILE SLOVAK LEADER'S ILLNESS RAISES IMPORTANT PROBLEM

Prague, August 14.

While the presence of Lord Runciman in Czechoslovakia has so far acted as a restraining influence on the extremists of both sides in the nationalities struggle, a strain in the situation is beginning to tell.

With indications of nationalistic sentiment getting slightly the upper hand and the knowledge that on the Sudeten side there is not the slightest tendency to moderate the demands, the atmosphere is becoming unfavourable for negotiations. The serious condition of Father Hlinka, leader of the Slovak autonomists, who is critically ill with pneumonia and who is not expected to last many hours, raises a highly important political problem.

The choice of his successor may seriously affect the whole situation in Czechoslovakia. All Government offices are closed today and tomorrow, which are holidays, and Lord Runciman is spending his week-end in northern Bohemia. (Reuter).

HAUL DOWN CHINESE FLAG

Incidents Mark First S'hai Anniversary

Protests To International Settlement Authorities

Shanghai, August 14.

INCIDENTS, such as the dropping of handbills over the International Settlement, and the attempts of the Japanese to have Chinese flags inside the Settlement hauled down, occurred here on Saturday, the first anniversary of the outbreak of hostilities in the Shanghai area.

THESE have contributed towards the straining of the relationships between the authorities of the International Settlement and French Concession and the Japanese.

The Japanese authorities, however, deny all responsibility regarding the dropping of the handbills although they admit that an aeroplane, belonging to the Japanese Civil Airways Company had been hired by the puppet government.

It was declared that the puppet government had caused the handbills to be scattered over the Settlement.

The Japanese told the International Settlement authorities that they were exceedingly annoyed over the large number of Chinese flags hoisted inside the International Settlement.

The Japanese spokesman pointed out that the Japanese Consul-

General, Mr. Hidska, had on several occasions made representations to the International Settlement authorities to the effect that any kind of incident would have disadvantageous consequences for the Settlement. For that reason the representative of the Japanese Embassy was all the more concerned over the display of the Chinese flags and further representations are expected. (Transocean).

JAPANESE ARRESTED

Shanghai, August 14.

Another member of the Japanese S.S.S. was arrested this morning by the Municipal Police. He was driving a car into the Settlement across the Garden Bridge and refused to halt when signalled by a Seaforth Highlander who jumped on the running board and forced the car to a halt.

The police searched the Japanese and finding him in possession of a pistol marched him off to the police station. There he admitted membership of the S.S.S. whereupon he was handed over to the British military authorities.

After questioning he was returned to the Japanese military authorities after a written receipt had been given by a Japanese officer. (Reuter).

SHANGHAI IN STATE OF SIEGE

Shanghai, August 13.

A state of siege has been declared in the International Settlement and French Concession here today, the first anniversary of the outbreak of the hostilities in Shanghai as a precautionary measure against possible acts of terrorism. (Transocean).

Japan Makes Representations

Tokyo, Aug. 13.

Japanese naval authorities have again made representations to foreign diplomatic and consular bodies in Shanghai, voicing the wish that the Japanese authorities might always be kept informed of the movements of foreign steamers in the Yangtze Sector between Kukiang and Hankow, state reports from Japanese sources.

It was also pointed out by the Japanese authorities that in the case of small vessels it is impossible for Japanese airmen to recognise the nationality of the steamers. (Transocean).

ALLEGED NEW VIOLATION OF THE SOVIET BORDER

M. Litvinov's Warning

Moscow, August 14.

It is stated that the Foreign Commissar, M. Litvinov, requested the Japanese Ambassador, Mr. Shigemitsu to call at the Foreign Commissariat on Saturday afternoon in order to draw the Ambassador's attention to the alleged new violation of the Soviet-Manchurian frontier by Japanese troops. This allegation is said to be based on reports received from the General Staff of the Far Eastern Soviet Army, which affirm that the violation in question took place on Saturday, but no details have been furnished.

M. Litvinov, nevertheless, took the view that the alleged incident amounted to a breach of the Agreement of August 10 which provided for the cessation of hostilities on condition that both sides retained the positions held by them.

M. Litvinov added that unless the incident were satisfactorily explained the Soviet Union would no longer regard itself as bound by the Agreement.

Mr. Shigemitsu is stated to have declined to admit the Soviet protest on the ground that no information to that effect had been received by the Japanese Embassy. The Ambassador stressed that, on the contrary all reports confirmed the complete cessation of military operations in the Changkufeng sector where absolute calm prevails. Hence the reports received by M. Litvinov appeared to the Ambassador to be incomprehensible. The Ambassador added that he would immediately ask the Japanese Government for information on the subject, and at the same time requested M. Litvinov to obtain details from the Soviet military authorities at Changkufeng. (Transocean).

Guerillas Take Possession Of Aerodrome

NATIONAL FLAG FLYING

Shanghai, August 14.

At midnight last night 300 guerillas appeared at Hungjiao Road, on the western boundary of Shanghai, and took up positions all round Hungjiao Aerodrome, five miles outside the perimeter.

Half an hour's heavy machine-gun firing against the small Japanese garrison ensued the guerillas launching an attack with hand-grenades.

As a result of the attack the guerillas took complete possession of the aerodrome and stuck up bamboo poles from which they hung the Chinese Government National flag. Then, apparently content with their victory the guerillas withdrew from the area at about 3 a.m. leaving the flag flying.

An hour later a large reinforcement of Japanese soldiers arrived who, after scouring the area to root out any remaining guerillas hauled down the flag. (Reuter).

As the sky paled the planes were seen reconnoitring boldly in the vicinity of the airfield while strings of vivid tracers sped to the sky as the Chinese defence kept up spirited and unavailing fire. The raiders remained for half an hour. (Reuter).

Open Rinks Final Won By C.G. Silva And His Men

EASY VICTORY OVER POLICE

Colony Lawn Bowls Open Rinks Champions today are the Recreio quartet of A. F. Noronha, C. A. Lopes J. E. Noronha, and C. G. Silva (skip).

Before 150 spectators at the Kowloon B. G. C. green yesterday, they decisively overwhelmed the Police R. C. rink of W. Melcod, W. Cameron, E. G. Post, and A. E. Carey (skip) by 26 shots to 13. The final score is out of proportion to the standard of play of the two rinks, Recreio winning more through steadiness and the individual strength of each of the players.

Flashes of brilliant play were seen now and then, the skips showing fine form. They provided the more thrilling moments, there being little to choose between them as to quality of play at yesterday's match. Carey's shot on the sixteenth head was the best one of the match.

CHINESE WIN

BASEBALL AT CAROLINE HILL

The Chinese beat the Indians by three runs to two in the international series baseball game at Caroline Hill yesterday.

The play was featureless and unexciting as the Chinese opened up by scoring two runs in the first innings. Another run by the Chinese in the fourth innings gave the Indians a three run deficit as they came "scoreless" for their seventh turn with the bat.

Some fumbling, a hit, and eventually two runs for the Indians. With one more innings to go, the game won, the Chinese decided not to bat.

The teams:
Indians:—A. R. Abbas, A. K. Omar, Hamet, Nazam, Bux, A. M. Abbas, Kitchell, M. Arculli, O. Arculli.

Committee Of Four Have Lengthy Conference

Tokyo, August 13.
A Committee of Four, instructed with the task of demarcating the Russo-Japanese frontier near Changkufeng, met for a lengthy conference, but according to the Japanese press, they did not discuss the frontier question.

The meeting, which was held in a school building at the foot of Changkufeng Hill, merely resulted in an agreement between the two parties to lend every assistance to efforts now in progress to recover and bury those killed in the conflict.

The negotiations over the demarcation of the frontier will be continued.—(Transocean).

TROOPS WITHDRAWN

Exact information concerning the present position at the front in the northern sector of the Heights of Changkufeng are to be laid before the Japanese and Soviet Governments, according to a statement issued by the Japanese War Ministry, which adds that as a result of the conversations between Japanese and Soviet Commanders-in-Chief on the spot all necessary measures had been taken to avoid new difficulties.

Thus the troops on both sides were withdrawn on Friday evening at eight o'clock about 80 metres from positions occupied by them on the Heights of Changkufeng.

MAP PREPARED

A map, corresponding to the new positions, will be prepared with the co-operation of both parties.

It is stated that the negotiators on both sides have retrospectively established the respective positions of the hostile columns at the time of the armistice, and that it has been proved that the Japanese were then in possession of the Heights.—(Transocean).

VALENCIA'S MAGINOT LINE

Madrid, August 14.
Sixty thousand men have worked day and night to build a new line of fortifications to defend Valencia, declared General Mijanguez in an interview yesterday.

The defences are described as Valencia's Maginot Line, and it is said that work of fortification must continue to make assurance doubly sure.—(Reuter).

ATTACKS ON BRITISH SHIPS

MISUNDERSTANDING OVER PLANS

London, August 13.
A statement issued by the Committee of British shipowners trading with Spain, regarding the proposed Commission of Enquiry into the bombing of British ships in Spanish ports reveals that some misunderstanding has occurred as to the proposals, the general of which were communicated to the shipowners' representatives on July 28 at a meeting at the Foreign Office.

So far as the Foreign Office was concerned, it was not intended to suggest the details were in any way fixed and the proposals were given to the Committee in order that they might have the opportunity to study them and discuss them with the shipping companies and give the Foreign Office the benefit of their views.

MORE DEFINITE PROPOSALS

From conclusions reached at the meeting of the Shipowners' Committee yesterday, it appears as if the Committee were under the impression that the proposals in question were of more definite nature than they in fact were.

No doubt an early opportunity will be taken for further discussion on the matter between the shipping companies and the department in the Foreign Office which is formulating the operative arrangements of the suggested Commission to investigate alleged deliberate attacks on British ships.—(British Wireless).

GIFT FOR DOOMED BATTALION

Manila, August 14.
A number of Chinese residents, in conjunction with the Fukien Times, a leading Chinese newspaper here, yesterday remitted $800 to Shanghai for members of the "Doomed Battalion" who are now on a hunger strike in the concentration camp in the International Settlement.

The money is given as an expression of admiration of the Chinese soldiers, who were interned following their withdrawal into the Settlement from the now famous godown in Chapel.—(Central News).

PREPARED OPIUM

Wang Choh, 24, appeared before Mr. Edwards at the Central Court on Saturday on charges of possession of 21 tael of prepared opium and 238 heroin pills at No. 14, King Lung Street. He was ordered to pay a fine of $1,000 or six months' imprisonment on the first charge and three months, without the option of a fine, on the second.

CHUNG SING BENEVOLENT SOCIETY

BATHING SHED'S HISTORY

Speaking at the third swimming gala of the Chung Sing Benevolent Society held at Kennedy Town on Saturday night, Mr. Lau King-tung, Vice-Chairman of the Society, who presided at the function, traced the history of the Society's bathing shed.

Mr. Lau said that in 1932, the late Mr. Wong Kwong-tin applied to the Government for a piece of land to build a bamboo pier, at a beach occupying 50 square feet.

In 1933, Mr. Lau Yuk-wan suggested the raising of funds to build a concrete shed and in the middle of the following year the structure was completed. Mr. Ng Chi-man undertook the training of swimmers and in the same year Misses Ng Yuet-kuen and Dora Lum and Mr. Ng himself were selected to represent Hong Kong at the Kwangtung Provincial aquatic sports. The team obtained second place in the 400 yards relay, Mr. Ng getting third prize in the 1,500 metres. Miss Dora Lum won the 100 and 200 metres breast stroke.

WATER POLO

In 1935, Mr. Chan Shek-pui joined the Club and trained the water polo team and the improvement both in water polo and swimming was very marked. Mr. Ng Chi-man, Miss Ng Yuet-hing and Mr. So Tin-nam were selected to represent Hong Kong at the China National Meet at Shanghai, after which Mr. Kong Chun-wah, Mr. Ng Chi-man and Mr. Chan Shek-pui went to Macao where they broke several records at the aquatic meet there.

In 1936, said Mr. Lau, members of the Chung Sing Society bathing shed, took part in the Ninth Kwangtung Provincial sports.

Last year, the Society organised a gala and concert in aid of funds for the famine in North China and war refugees.

Mr. Lau referred to the anniversary of the outbreak of Sino-Japanese hostilities in Shanghai and the "offer gold" movement in which connection the total receipts on Saturday night (H.K.$197.32, $175 National currency and $10 Canton currency) was donated by the Society to war funds.

NEW DEAL PLANS VAST CHANGES FOR SOUTH

Bitter Political Struggle In America Foreseen

Washington, August 14.

Reconstruction of the Southern States on modern lines will be the New Deal's next big objective.

This information follows the National Emergency Commission's report regarding the Southern States, which brands the area as the most backward in the nation and a brake on national progress.

It is believed that President Roosevelt will begin to tackle the problem when Congress meets again. Meanwhile, he is utilizing the report as political ammunition in the campaign to purge the Party of reactionary Democrats who are particularly entrenched in the South.

It is expected that certain conservatives, such as Senators Glass, Byrd and Smith will resist bitterly, while the Government supporters will retort that Congressmen who oppose a New Deal for the South, which includes a programme of higher wages and unionisation, should not use the Democratic label.—(Reuter).
